

Forecast For Northern Ireland
Issued by Met Office Aberdeen
at 0400 on Tuesday 28 Sep 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:

Bright with scattered showers, cloudier in the afternoon.

Today:

A mainly dry and bright start. Somewhat cloudier by afternoon especially in the east with scattered showers developing, these occasionally heavy. Winds easing in the afternoon. Maximum temperature 15 deg C (59 deg F).

Tonight:

Most showers dying out and skies clearing, perhaps more cloud in the west. Freshening northwesterly winds will make it feel quite cool. Minimum temperature 7 deg C (45 deg F).

Wednesday:

Dry and sunny for much of the day, perhaps the risk of a shower around the Antrim coast and clouding over in the west later. Maximum temperature 15 deg C (59 deg F).

Outlook for Thursday to Saturday:

Quite an unsettled end to the week with showers and strong southwesterly winds throughout, a few longer spells of rain at times too.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.